Old Hinds Twenty-eight Hundred and Thirty-six Democratic Mafority.

Very many audiences will remember the pledge which the writer made for Hinds, pending the canvass. It has been redeemed-aye, more than redeemed. Hinds county, with her two thousand majority of colored voters, and with United States troops stationed at the largest polling places in the county, thereby contradicting the idea of intimidation, has given TWENTY-EIGHT HUN-DRED AND THIRTY-SIX MAJORITY FOR TILDEN, HENDRICKS AND REFORM.

IF Artesia had been on the line the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad last Wednesday morning when the five hundred armed negroes were forming solid squares and marching and countermarching and establishing "dead lines," in an hour or two Warren and Hinds counties would have put into that quiet little village a body of men, who would have planted that dead line so deep that nothing except Gabriel's trumpet could have moved it. That five hundred armed negroes wouldn't have had a corperal's guard left for duty. A body of men, who, our word for it, would have made Rome howl.
